Dear Janae:

On behalf of the entire Queenan family and the Club Q Organization, it is with immense pride and joy that we award you a $500 scholarship in recognition of your inspiring vision, heartfelt essay, and ambitious goals. Your passion for Interior Design radiates with creativity, purpose, and a deep understanding of how spaces can shape lives—and we are honored to support you on this journey.

Your words touched us deeply:

“This has been a dream of mine since I took my first interior design class in high school two years ago. I’m so excited to take the next steps toward turning that dream into a reality.”

We see in you not only a future designer, but a visionary—someone who understands how color, texture, and space can uplift the human spirit. Your appreciation for how thoughtful design can transform everyday environments speaks to a maturity and insight well beyond your years.

We are thrilled to celebrate your acceptance to Meredith College, a place that aligns beautifully with your values and aspirations. Meredith’s nurturing, all-women’s community and its strong Interior Design program will no doubt empower you to grow both personally and professionally. Your desire to build leadership and confidence in such an environment is a testament to your strength and foresight.

Your academic goals are equally inspiring. From mastering design principles and space planning to diving into digital tools like SketchUp and AutoCAD, you are preparing yourself with both the creative and technical skills needed to thrive. And your decision to minor in Mathematics—a bold and brilliant choice—shows your commitment to precision and excellence. As you wisely noted, math is the backbone of architectural design, and your ability to blend artistry with structure will set you apart in the field.

Ultimately, your dream to become a professional interior designer who creates spaces that are both beautiful and functional is one we wholeheartedly believe in. We know that the education and experiences you’ll gain at Meredith will shape you into the designer—and the woman—you aspire to be.

Janae, your journey is a continuation of a proud legacy, and we are honored to walk beside you. The Queenan family stands with you—not just in celebration today, but in mentorship, encouragement, and love for the road ahead.
